EDITOR'S NOTE

My former colleague Craig Peters, the man who conceived the PWI WRESTLING ALMANAC, always insisted that no event would be called "annual" in our magazines until it was proved that it can at least come back for a second year. Promoters could hawk "The First Annual Quadrangle, One-Hand-Tied-Behind-Your-Back, Barbed-Wire, Losing-Team-Leaves-Town Texas Death Tournament," but Craig insisted we leave off the word "annual" until they held the tournament again a year later.

Craig, as usual, was right. How often do we see promoters of events (not just in wrestling) try to get people hyped up with the promise that they would be part of history, attending the first of what would be an annual tradition? How many people, after all, would love to tell their friends that they were at the first Super Bowl?

Well, Craig, with the publication of the second edition of the PWI WRESTLING ALMANAC, is it okay if we call it an annual event? Based on the reviews (and sales figures!) of the first edition, I can say without hesitation that we are going to be around for a while.

Our second annual issue is similar in format to the first, with several exceptions. We asked for your feedback, and you were not shy about expressing what you liked—and what you didn't like. We considered all your suggestions and added sections that the majority of you asked for. We also corrected the errors that appeared in the first issue.

I want to thank each of you who provided us with comments and additional information for this second edition. And I appeal to all of you who can offer your expertise for the third annual edition to write to us at: PWI Almanac, Box 1148, Ft. Washington, PA 19034. In particular, we'd love to eliminate all of the "N/A" designations in the "Statistics" section and increase the amount of items in the "Wrestling Year By Year" section.

Our goal is to make every issue better than the last. With your help, we can accomplish that goal every year. Enjoy the book.

WRESTLING REVUE BLOWOUT!

Wrestling historians, rejoice! Published between 1959 and 1964, Wrestling Revue is acknowledged as one of the finest series of wrestling magazines ever produced. These beautiful editions, all edited and published by Stanley Weston (founder of Pro Wrestling Illustrated, The Wrestler, and Inside Wrestling, among so many other titles) set a standard for all wrestling magazines that followed, and have not been offered for sale for more than a decade! But a recent transfer of warehouse inventory from New York to Pennsylvania uncovered a small supply of these classic publications! Obviously, supplies are extremely limited, so all magazines will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis only. Prices quoted are based on the rarity of the issue and the number of available copies. For speediest service, use VISA or MasterCard or make payment by money order or certified check. Please don't send cash! Don't miss out on this once-in-a-lifetime chance to own a memorable piece of wrestling history! Once they're gone, they'll never be offered for sale again—so order today!

THE 10 BIGGEST NEWS STORIES OF 1996

1. The Formation Of The NWO

When Scott Hall and Kevin Nash decided to leave the WWF this spring and signed big-bucks contracts with WCW, that was a Top 10 story in itself. What they did once they got to WCW is the story of the year, and one of the top stories in the sport's history. After making a couple of appearances on Monday Nitro, Hall and Nash revealed their intentions were not merely to join WCW, but to take over the federation. They formed the New World Order and quickly began recruiting members. Their first acquisition, Hulk Hogan, proved to be the most important, as it gave them the credibility they needed to establish the NWO as a threat to WCW. Soon, the NWO was able to recruit manager/money man Ted DiBiase, The Giant (who has since left), Ted DiBiase, Six, M. Wall Street, Big Bubba, Marcus Bagwell, and Masa Chono. The NWO's biggest coup was swaying Eric Bischoff to its side. Bischoff has taken advantage of his position as WCW's senior vice president to exert a great deal of pressure on those wrestlers who are still loyal to WCW's cause. As of year end, Time Warner Vice Chairman Ted Turner had not publicly responded to Bischoff's actions.

2. Hulk Hogan "Sticks It" To The Fans

Hulk Hogan to the fans—1983-1995: "Say your prayers, take your vitamins." Hulk Hogan to the fans—1996: "Stick it!" Those two words, capping a hate-filled soliloquy at Bash at the Beach in July in which Hogan trashed just about everybody who ever supported him, ended the 12-plus-year run of "Hulkamania." The Outsiders, Scott Hall and Kevin Nash, had promised to add a third man to their team for their scheduled match against Sting, Lex Luger, and Randy Savage. After Luger was injured and carried out of the ring on a stretcher, Hogan came to the ring, and everyone assumed he was there to assist the fan favorites. Instead, he legdropped a fallen Savage and high-fived Nash and Hall. "It's time for Hulk Hogan to look out for Hulk Hogan, brother," Hogan told Gene Okerlund in the ring. "Hulk Hogan, you can go to hell!" said Tony Schiavone at ringside.

3. Nitro Is A Ratings Success

When Monday Nitro debuted in September 1995 directly opposite the WWF's successful Monday Night Raw, few industry analysts gave the program any chance of success. Sixteen months later, not only is the program a ratings success, it has beaten the WWF's flagship program for the past six months. Nitro's ratings initially were not remarkable, but slowly they began to build momentum. By providing television that was at the very least unpredictable, Nitro eventually started to beat Raw regularly. Building on this advantage, WCW expanded the program to two hours in late-May, which caused a further decline in the WWF's ratings. In attempt to counter Nitro's one-hour lead-in advantage, USA Network moved Raw to 8 p.m. Eastern and Pacific. In the early going, at least, the move proved to be largely ineffective, and Nitro continued to rule Monday nights as the new year began.

4. Time Warner/TBS Merger Deal Is Consummated

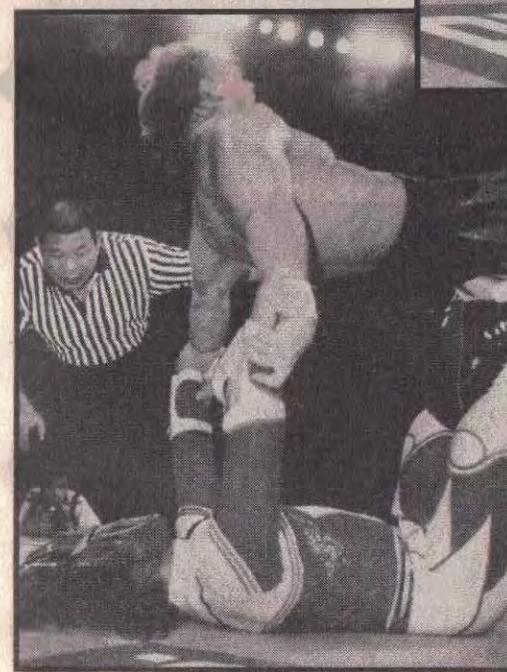

After announcing plans for their merger last year, Time Warner Inc. and Turner Broadcasting System Inc. had to await approval from the Federal Trade Commission before finalizing the deal. That approval came through in October, despite opposition from various parties, including the WWF's Vince McMahon. The end result is that WCW is now owned by the largest media conglomerate in the world. This creates a synergy for the distribution of WCW television and products that might lead to WCW specials on HBO or one of the other Time Warner pay networks. Ted Turner now serves as vice chairman under Time Warner Chairman of the Board Gerald Levin.

6. Shinya Hashimoto Defeats Nobuhiko Takada To Climax New Japan vs. UWFI Feud

New Japan's Shinya Hashimoto beat UWFI's Nobuhiko Takada on April 29 to regain the New Japan IWGP heavyweight title and culminate the record-breaking feud between the two organizations. The feud drew three sellouts to the Tokyo Dome, beginning with Keiji Muto's (Great Muta) successful title defense against Takada on October 9, 1995. That was followed by Takada beating Muto this past January 4 at the Tokyo Dome to become the first non-New Japan wrestler to hold the IWGP title since Hulk Hogan in 1984. It all led to Hashimoto regaining honor for New Japan with his win at the April Tokyo Dome card in front of 65,000 fans.

5. Jushin Liger Has Brain Tumor Removed

When Jushin Liger lost hearing in one of his ears a few years ago, he assumed it was the result of a blow he had taken while executing one of his daredevil maneuvers. However, after having several spells and blackouts, Liger had a CATscan done, and it was discovered he had a brain tumor. Tests were done and the tumor was fortunately discovered to be benign. Liger would have the tumor surgically removed, and return to the ring shortly thereafter.

Ray Stevens

Dick Murdoch

7. Ray Stevens And Dick Murdoch Die

1996 saw the passing of two pro wrestling legends, "Crippler" Ray Stevens and "Dirty" Dick Murdoch. Stevens, who died in his sleep on May 3 at the age of 60, was a star during the '60s, '70s, and early-'80s. Considered one of the best wrestlers of his era, Stevens held several titles, including the United States championship, the NWA World tag team championship, and the AWA World tag team championship. Stevens formed two legendary tag teams, one with Pat Patterson on the West Coast, the other with Nick Bockwinkel in the AWA. Murdoch, a wild brawler, died on June 15 at the age of 49 of an apparent heart attack. Murdoch, who first came into prominence in the late-'60s as Dusty Rhodes' partner in The Outlaws, became an international star and a legend in Texas. Along with several singles championships, he also held the WWF tag team championship with the late Adrian Adonis.

8. ECW Invades The WWF

When the WWF decided to run an In Your House pay-per-view in Philadelphia in September, it knew it was in ECW's backyard. It did not expect, however, to have ECW wrestlers cause a commotion at ringside and attempt to enter the ring before being escorted out by security. Nor did it expect to have ECW wrestlers appear at the next night's Raw telecast. Nor did it expect to have Paul E. Dangerously call as "Bruce from Connecticut" on its LiveWire program. Perhaps, though, the WWF can make this all work to its advantage. This has some of the same characteristics of the early relationship between the WWF and the USWA. If the WWF and ECW can work together, as the WWF and USWA have for the last three years, they can be a more formidable opponent for the ever-strengthening WCW.

9. Bret Hart Re-signs With The WWF

In the '80s and early-'90s, if the WWF wanted to renew a wrestler's contract, it was almost guaranteed the wrestler would re-sign rather than jump to WCW. Things are a bit different now. WCW finally gained access to Ted Turner's and ultimately Time Warner's deep pockets and has become competitive in signing top wrestling stars. Lex Luger, Madusa, Ted DiBiase, Scott Hall, Six, Jeff Jarrett, and Kevin Nash are all former WWF stars who jumped to the WWF since September 1995. When Bret Hart, one of the WWF's top stars for almost a decade, let his contract with the WWF expire, he found himself in a unique negotiating position. As one of the most recognizable and best wrestlers in the business, he was able to force WCW and the WWF to bid against each other for his services. The WWF would eventually win the battle, offering Hart a multimillion-dollar 20-year contract that would extend well beyond his days as an active competitor. The impact of this signing can be huge for wrestling: Not only did the WWF sign a man it deeply coveted, but it sent a signal to other wrestlers that it still had the resources to compete financially with WCW.

Bret didn't jump

10. Jim Ross Signs New Diesel, New Ramon

In what many viewed as a lowpoint for the WWF in its battle with WCW, Jim Ross, a WWF vice president, announced in September that he had signed Razor Ramon and Diesel to WWF contracts. This immediately raised speculation as to Ross' credibility, as it was well-known that Scott Hall and Kevin Nash were under contract to WCW and had no intention of returning to the WWF. Still, Ross insisted he would produce Ramon and Diesel. He did, but they were impostors. Ross did not stop at insulting the fans' intelligence. He went on to publicly insult his employer, Vince McMahon, making references to McMahon's steroid trial and his feeling that McMahon had once fired him because he was afflicted with Bell's palsy. It is a strange time for wrestling indeed.

1996: THE YEAR IN WRESTLING

In this section, we provide an overview of some of the more memorable events of the year just passed. For a look at more memorable dates throughout wrestling history, please turn to page 102.

JANUARY 1:

The WWF finally responds on the air to WCW's criticism with a skit depicting Ted Turner as "Billionaire Ted," Hulk Hogan as "The Huckster," Randy Savage as "The Nacho Man," and Gene Okerlund as "Scheme Gene."

JANUARY 4:

Hulk Hogan files a lawsuit against a Minneapolis woman and her attorney, charging them both with extortion relating to their allegations of sexual assault.

JANUARY 5:

No longer "The Dean," Shane Douglas makes a triumphant return to ECW in Philadelphia and makes some derogatory comments about the WWF.

Public Enemy

JANUARY 17:

Former ECW tag team champions Public Enemy make their WCW debut in Atlanta.

JANUARY 21:

The Royal Rumble features the WWF debut of Big Van Vader and the return of Jake "The Snake" Roberts to active competition. Rumored participants Sabu and boxer Peter McNeeley decline offers to compete in the event.

JANUARY 22:

Vader's second night in the WWF results in a suspension after he attacks WWF President Gorilla Monsoon. Roddy Piper is named acting president while Monsoon recuperates.

JANUARY 23:

The long-awaited reunion of The Road Warriors finally occurs at WCW's Clash of the Champions event in Las Vegas. Elizabeth also returns at the side of Hulk Hogan and Randy Savage (temporarily).

FEBRUARY 3:

The NWA holds the inaugural Eddie Gilbert Memorial Brawl in Cherry Hill, New Jersey.

FEBRUARY 19:

Days after announcing the signing of a Razor Ramon-Goldust streetfight for WrestleMania XII, the WWF suspends Ramon for six weeks due to "unprofessional conduct."

MARCH 5:

The WWF issues a statement that "Big Daddy Cool" Diesel (Kevin Nash) will be leaving for WCW. His last day with the federation is to be June 6.

MARCH 11:

Rick and Scott Steiner make a surprise return to WCW ring wars to face The Road Warriors on WCW Monday Nitro.

MARCH 16:

The Cauliflower Alley Club holds its 29th Anniversary West Coast Reunion Banquet. Honorees include Stan Hansen, Bobby Heenan, and Nelson Royal.

MARCH 17:

Diesel officially turns rulebreaker when he attacks his best friend, Shawn Michaels, in front of a sellout crowd at Madison Square Garden.

MARCH 24:

"Diamond" Dallas Page's wrestling career apparently ends when he is pinned by The Booty Man at WCW Uncensored. According to a prematch stipulation, Page has to retire. He would be reinstated several months later when a legal loophole in the match contract is found.

MARCH 31:

The ongoing "Billionaire Ted" saga finally ends at WrestleMania XII when referee "Billionaire Ted," "The Huckster" and "The Nacho Man" expire during their match. The event also features the return of The Ultimate Warrior to active competition, the return of Gorilla Monsoon to the office of WWF president, and the WWF debut of Marc Mero (Johnny B. Badd in WCW).

APRIL 13:

Jerry Jarrett Promotions holds its 1,000th live card at Memphis' WMC-TV studios.

APRIL 15:

Brian Pillman suffers numerous injuries in a serious automobile accident in Kentucky. He has yet to return to active competition.

MAY 5:

Former wrestler Ray Stevens dies from a heart attack in San Francisco, California. He was 60.

MAY 18:

After several years of wrestling as a rulebreaker in the WWF and a fan favorite in the USWA, Jerry Lawler finally turns rulebreaker in the USWA.

MAY 19:

"Diamond" Dallas Page becomes the WCW Lord of the Ring by winning the Battlebowl battle royal at Slamboree. He earned a World title shot but never received it because officials determined that he had cheated during the battle royal.

MAY 27:

During the first two-hour Monday Nitro broadcast, Scott Hall (a.k.a. Razor Ramon) emerges from the audience to declare war on WCW.

MAY 28:

Ted DiBiase is forced to leave the WWF due to a prematch stipulation after his charge, "Stone-Cold" Steve Austin, loses a Caribbean strap match to Savio Vega.

JUNE 1:

The first World Peace Festival, organized by Antonio Inoki, is held at the Sports Arena in Los Angeles; it features wrestlers from promotions such as WCW, EMLL, AAA, and New Japan. The WWF chooses not to send any of its wrestlers ... Brian Pillman, restricted to a wheelchair because of an ankle injury, makes his first appearance in a wrestling arena since his April automobile accident when he shows up at the ECW Arena in Philadelphia.

Brian Pillman

JUNE 6:

After 2½ years on the job, former wrestler and commentator Jesse "The Body" Ventura is fired as morning drive-time talk show host on KSTP-AM in St. Paul, Minnesota. The general manager cited low ratings as the reason for the decision.

JUNE 10:

Brian Pillman signs with the WWF in an eventful and, thanks to Pillman, chaotic press conference at Titan Towers ... Kevin Nash (formerly Diesel) returns to WCW at the side of Scott Hall and reveals himself to be the second of three "Outsiders."

JUNE 15:

Dick Murdoch dies of a massive heart attack at his ranch in Canyon, Texas. He was 49.

JUNE 16:

Scott Hall and Kevin Nash attack Eric Bischoff at The Great American Bash. Nash power-bombs the WCW senior vice president through an interview stage when Bischoff claims he can't tell them whom he has selected to answer their challenge ... The Four Horsemen return to full-force when former Nitro commentator/NFL star Steve McMichael attacks his tag team partner, current NFL great Kevin Greene, and joins the quartet.

JUNE 23:

"Stone-Cold" Steve Austin defeats Jake "The Snake" Roberts in the finals of the WWF King of the Ring tournament ... Skip and Zip of The Bodydonnas introduce their new manager, Cloudy. He (or she) is gone within weeks.

JUNE 24:

PWI Weekly goes to press with a story featuring the headline, "Will Hogan Join Diesel And Ramon?"

JUNE 29:

Sid Vicious ends his retirement and returns to the WWF (as a substitute for The Ultimate Warrior) and defeats Owen Hart in Detroit.

JULY 7:

Hulk Hogan reveals himself to be the third "Outsider" when he joins Scott Hall and Kevin Nash in their main event match at Bash at the Beach against Randy Savage, Sting, and Lex Luger. After the match, the group formally christens itself the New World Order.

JULY 8:

WWF President Gorilla Monsoon suspends The Ultimate Warrior for his failure to appear at several WWF arena cards. The suspension was to be lifted only if the Warrior agreed to post an appearance bond. He never did.

JULY 13:

Pit Bull I's neck is broken in a match by Shane Douglas in Philadelphia ... Raven turns The Sandman's ex-wife (Lori Fullington) and son (Tyler) against him (both appear in Raven's corner for an ECW championship match).

JULY 22:

Ahmed Johnson suffers a ruptured kidney after WWF newcomer Faarooq (a.k.a. Ron Simmons), with manager Sunny, sneak-attacks him on a live edition of WWF Monday Night Raw.

JULY 23:

Universal Wrestling Federation promoter Herb Abrams dies of an apparent drug overdose in New York.

JULY 29:

In the NWO's first serious act of aggression, Nash and Hall attack Arn Anderson, Rey Mysterio Jr., Scotty Riggs, and Marcus Bagwell during Nitro at Disney Studios in Orlando, Florida.

AUGUST 7:

Jushin Liger holds a press conference to announce that doctors have discovered a tumor on his brain. Test results later reveal the tumor to be benign and, after surgery to remove it, Liger is able to return to action.

AUGUST 10:

The Booty Man attempts to join the NWO following the Hog Wild pay-per-view, but Hogan immediately attacks his former best friend.

AUGUST 18:

Paul Bearer turns against his long-time charge, The Undertaker, at SummerSlam in Cleveland. Bearer's betrayal allows Mankind to defeat Undertaker in a "Boiler Room Brawl."

AUGUST 19:

The tournament for the WWF Intercontinental title begins after Ahmed Johnson is stripped of the belt due to injuries. Marc Mero would go on to win the title ... An unholy alliance is formed when Bob Backlund and The Iron Sheik join forces to manage WWF newcomer The Sultan ... Ted DiBiase makes his first Nitro appearance when he sits at ringside to observe the matches. He would later reveal himself to be the "money man" of the NWO.

AUGUST 23:

Independent wrestler Neil Superior dies after an altercation with police in Ocean City, Maryland. He was 33.

SEPTEMBER 2:

The Giant shocks WCW by joining the NWO just 23 days after losing the WCW World title to Hulk Hogan.

SEPTEMBER 6:

Jim Ross confuses everyone when he announces on a special Friday edition of Raw that Razor Ramon and Diesel have been negotiating to return to the WWF. Kevin Nash and Scott Hall vehemently deny the claim.

SEPTEMBER 8:

Former WCW Executive Vice President Bill Watts makes his presence known at a WWF card in Oklahoma City by slapping Paul Bearer and knocking Mankind out of the ring.

SEPTEMBER 9:

Millions of Nitro viewers witness what appears to be Sting attacking Lex Luger and driving off in a limousine with the New World Order. Later, it would be revealed that it was an NWO replica of the popular WCW star.

SEPTEMBER 10:

Juanita Wright, better known as Sapphire, Dusty Rhodes' valet, dies at her home in St. Louis of a heart attack. She was 61.

SEPTEMBER 15:

The NWO tips the balance of power by defeating Team WCW at "War Games" in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, when Lex Luger submits to the fake Sting.

Arn Anderson after NWO attack

SEPTEMBER 16:

Six (formerly The 1-2-3 Kid in the WWF) joins the NWO ... Sting declares himself a "free agent" with no loyalty to WCW or the NWO.

SEPTEMBER 22:

Former Olympic weightlifter Mark Henry makes his wrestling debut when he upsets Jerry "The King" Lawler ... ECW, a promotion based in Philadelphia, makes its presence known at a WWF In Your House pay-per-view when The Sandman, Tommy Dreamer, and Paul E. Dangerously buy ringside tickets. The three are escorted out of the building after Sandman spits beer on Savio Vega during a match.

SEPTEMBER 23:

For a second straight night, ECW wrestlers upset a televised WWF event, as Taz and Bill Alfonso break through security barriers and further taunt WWF wrestlers. The same night, Jim Ross lashes out at WWF head Vince McMahon for firing him twice. He also introduces The New Razor Ramon and The New Diesel ... Vincent (formerly Virgil) is introduced as head of security for the New World Order.

Douglas assaults Pit Bull I.

SEPTEMBER 30:

WCW U.S. champion Ric Flair is attacked by the New World Order and aggravates a shoulder injury he suffered in Japan several weeks earlier. Flair opts for surgery and is expected to be out until spring.

OCTOBER 5:

During a match with Pit Bull II, Shane Douglas grabs Pit Bull I by the halo brace that he wears to protect his broken vertebra, spins him around, and throws him to the mat. Fortunately, Pit Bull I suffers no further serious injury.

OCTOBER 7:

Amidst speculation that he will join the NWO, Jeff Jarrett makes his Nitro debut and aligns himself with WCW.

OCTOBER 21:

Bret Hart ends months of speculation and announces that he has turned down a generous offer from WCW to return to the WWF. A match with "Stone-Cold" Steve Austin, whom Hart and McMahon both call the best wrestler in the WWF, is immediately signed for Survivor Series ... Flash Funk (a.k.a. 2 Cold Scorpio) makes his WWF debut.

OCTOBER 22:

After 18 months in the WWF, Chris "Skip" Candido returns to the ECW Arena and defeats Spike Dudley. ECW fans chant "Skip is dead!" ... Three-time former WWF World tag team champions The Smokin' Gunns officially break up when Billy attacks Bart in Cincinnati.

OCTOBER 27:

"Rowdy" Roddy Piper confronts WCW World champion Hulk Hogan after his title match at Halloween Havoc in Las Vegas. Their old WWF feud is rekindled as the two men argue over who is the bigger wrestling icon.

NOVEMBER 4:

After nearly four years in the same timeslot, WWF Monday Night Raw moves to one hour earlier in an effort to boost ratings. That night features the infamous gun confrontation between Brian Pillman and Steve Austin.

NOVEMBER 16:

Terry Funk returns to ECW at the promotion's annual "November To Remember" ... The WWF inducts Capt. Lou Albano, Killer Kowalski, Vince McMahon Sr., Pat Patterson, Johnny Rodz, Baron Mikel Scicluna, Jimmy Snuka, and Jimmy and Johnny Valiant into its Hall of Fame ... Rocky Maivia, the WWF's first third-generation star (son of Rocky Johnson and grandson of Peter Maivia) makes his WWF debut at Survivor Series in Madison Square Garden. He eliminates Crush and Goldust to win his team's eight-man match.

NOVEMBER 18:

WCW Senior Vice President Eric Bischoff reveals his allegiance to the NWO, embracing Hulk Hogan on a live Nitro and watching the NWO attack Roddy Piper ... Davey Boy Smith comes to the aid of brother-in-law Bret Hart when Bret is attacked by "Stone-Cold" Steve Austin and Smith's tag team championship partner, Owen Hart. Speculation is that Smith's wife (and Bret and Owen's sister) has asked him to try to patch up his differences with Bret.

NOVEMBER 25:

Eric Bischoff announces on Nitro that all WCW wrestlers have 30 days to convert their WCW contracts to NWO contracts or risk becoming targets of the NWO. Long-time WCW fan favorite Marcus Bagwell is the first to sign up, much to the chagrin of former tag team partner Scotty Riggs.

DECEMBER 9:

Ric Flair and Roddy Piper appear side by side on Nitro as Flair offers assistance to his long-time rival in his feud with Hulk Hogan. Piper respectfully declines the offer.

DECEMBER 16:

Goldust, one of the most hated wrestlers of 1996, apparently begins to turn fan favorite when he starts a feud with WWF Intercontinental champion Hunter Hearst Helmsley, who made a pass at Goldust's "director," Marlena, the night before. Goldust punches Jerry Lawler ... In one eventful night, the NWO signs Masa Chono away from New Japan and Big Bubba Rogers, M. Wall Street, and Scott Norton away from WCW.

DECEMBER 17:

Barry Windham, months after his return to wrestling and the WWF, apparently turns rule-breaker when he attacks Henry and Phineas Godwinn after a match.

DECEMBER 29:

Roddy Piper deals Hulk Hogan his first clean loss since WrestleMania VI (1990) when he beats him in a non-title match with a睡者 hold at Starrcade. After the match, Hogan, Hall, and Nash exchange angry words with The Giant, who failed in his attempt to choke-slam Piper during the bout.

DECEMBER 30:

The Giant is officially booted out of the NWO as the rest of the group attacks him under orders from Hogan.

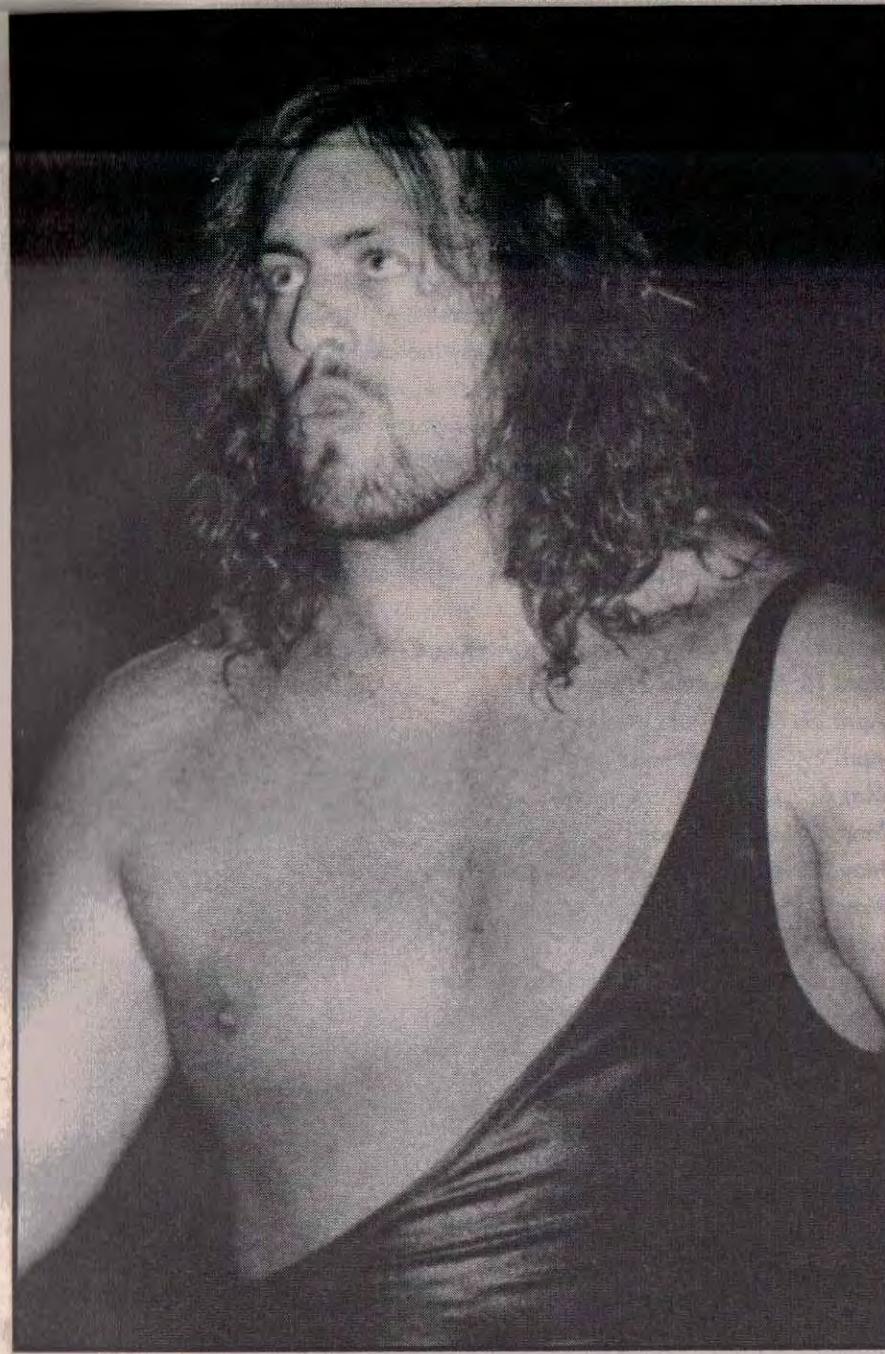

Hall of Famer Rodz

STATISTICS FOR PROFESSIONAL WRESTLERS

On the pages that follow, you'll find statistics—height, weight, hometown, year (or specific date) of pro debut, and birthday—for hundreds of professional wrestlers worldwide. This list does not purport to be 100 percent comprehensive in presenting every wrestler there's ever been, but it does strive to be 100 percent accurate with the information it does present. Many birthdays and pro debuts have been double- and triple-checked through cross-references. Even so, errors may have crept into the list, and there is information that may yet be added (such as determining the specific date of a pro debut, not just the year, or month and year). We invite anyone with additions and/or corrections to this list to send your information to: PWI ALMANAC, Box 1148, Ft. Washington, PA 19034. We'll be more than happy to update our list for next year's edition.

PRO WRESTLING ILLUSTRATED ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

In this section, you'll find a complete listing of all PWI Achievement Award winners, including three categories that are no longer awarded. We've also provided a comprehensive listing of runners-up (which were first reported in 1976) for all awards.

Award winners were first presented annually in the pages of Pro Wrestling Illustrated effective with our March 1982 issue, and continue to appear in the March edition each year. Prior to that, awards appeared in Sports Review Wrestling (1980 awards in the March 1981 edition), Sports Review Wrestling Annual (1977-79 awards in Spring 1978, '79, and '80 editions), and Victory Sports Series Wrestling Annual and Yearbook editions (1972-76 awards in issues #4, 7, 11, 14, and 18).

TITLE HISTORIES

On the pages that follow, you'll find a comprehensive listing of champions for several of the sport's major titles, both current and defunct. The information we've gathered comes from our own computer and text files; reference sources such as several decades worth of newspaper reports and arena programs; and a superlative reference tool, Wrestling Title Histories (Third Edition), edited by Royal Duncan and Gary Will (for information on that volume, contact Royal Duncan, 7600 N. Galena Road, Peoria, Illinois 61615). Please note that in many of the listings, additions have been made and errors have been corrected from previously published versions of the various title histories in Pro Wrestling Illustrated and our sister publications. Future editions of the Almanac will continue to add to and modify these listings to provide the most accurate and comprehensive information available. Listings for currently active championships are updated through December 31, 1996.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>7</sup>This was a tournament final at WrestleMania IV. Time of the match: 9:27.

<sup>8</sup>WWF President Jack Tunney was at ringside for the bout, but was knocked unconscious by the interfering Ric Flair. Undertaker's manager, Paul Bearer, also interfered by attempting to hit Hulk Hogan with his urn. Hogan ducked, and Bearer hit Undertaker instead. Hogan grabbed the urn, threw ashes in Undertaker's face, then pinned him. The following day, Tunney declared the title vacant, with a new champion to be determined at the January 19, 1992, Royal Rumble.

<sup>10</sup>This was WrestleMania IX. Bret Hart had Yokozuna in the sharpshooter leglock. Mr. Fuji threw salt in Hart's eyes, enabling Yokozuna to make the pin. Hulk Hogan came to the ring, made an impromptu challenge to Yokozuna, and the two wrestled. Fuji tried throwing salt again during the match with Hogan, hit Yokozuna instead, and Hogan scored the title-winning pin in just 25 seconds. Total length of Yokozuna's reign: 2:07.

<sup>11</sup>Roddy Piper was special referee for the bout. Time of the match: 10:31.

<sup>6</sup>Shawn Michaels was forced to forfeit the title to Dean Douglas at this In Your house pay-per-view due to an injury that occurred a week earlier.

<sup>7</sup>The title had been held up earlier in the evening after a controversial match between Goldust and Vega; this was a rematch.

<sup>8</sup>This was a tournament final; Johnson had been forced to vacate the title after suffering a kidney injury in an altercation with Faarooq.

SHAWN MICHAELS VS. DAVEY BOY SMITH (OCTOBER 27, 1992)

WWF WORLD TAG TEAM TITLE

(NOTE: The World Wrestling Federation was formed in 1963; the WWF tag team title was known as the United States tag team title until 1967, when the title became vacant because Bruno Sammartino (whose tag team championship partner at the time was Spiros Arion) was unable to defend both the U.S. tag team title and the WWF heavyweight title. From 1969 through 1971, the title was known as the WWWF International tag team title. In late-1971, the championship became known as the WWF World tag team title.)

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>6</sup>This is a tournament final. On November 12, 1971, "Crazy" Luke Graham & Tarzan Tyler defeated The Mongols, thus quieting any disputes that the Mongols remained uncrowned champions.

<sup>7</sup>In June 1975, Victor Rivera announced he was giving up his half of the title; Dominic DeNucci was allowed to choose a new partner, and chose "Irish" Pat Barrett.

<sup>13</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been declared vacant when Diesel and Shawn Michaels split up at The Survivor Series, on November 23, 1994.

<sup>14</sup>Earlier in the day on September 25, WWF President Gorilla Monsoon stripped Diesel and Shawn Michaels of the title and returned the belts to Owen Hart and Yokozuna.

<sup>15</sup>This was a tournament final; The Smokin' Gunns had been forced to vacate the title several months earlier when Billy suffered a neck injury.

NWA HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

(NOTE: There are several key points to remember in viewing this list of NWA champions: (1) With the help of additional sources examined for this almanac, this listing contains many modifications, additions, and corrections from previous versions of the NWA title lineage printed in Pro Wrestling Illustrated or our sister publications. (2) The NWA that most fans know of today, the National Wrestling Alliance, was actually formed in 1948; a second NWA, the National Wrestling Association, came into being in 1929. (3) At various times throughout this century, the lineage of the title has been broken, most recently prior to Chris Candido's winning of the belt; special attention should be paid to the late-'20s and early-'30s, during which time the world title splintered into several factions and lineage remains fuzzy at best. As a result we've done our best to highlight major breaks from the main line, and reconnect the lineage where appropriate. For the best complete overview of the title history at the time, refer to Duncan & Will, Third Edition.)

OOTNOTES:

During the first few years of the century, George Hackenschmidt had won world championship tournaments in Italy, Germany, and England. As a result of this match, by defeating American champion Tom Jenkins in two straight falls, he became recognized as top champion in North America. George Hackenschmidt left the ring, refusing to return, and the referee awarded the title to Gotch, who retired in 1913; his last match was a victory over George Lurich on April 9.

Charlie Cutler had defeated Henry Ordeman and Jesse Westegard in a tournament, and had laid claim to the world title.

Earl Caddock was awarded the title by the referee when Joe Stecher refused to return to the ring after the second fall.

As a result of this match, Dick Shikat became recognized as the first champion of the National Wrestling Association (NWA), a division of the National Boxing Association.

Henry DeGlane won the title by disqualification.

This match was billed as a world championship match, and was designed to halt the controversy that was splitting the sport at the time. Jim Londos was subsequently stripped of his title for refusing to meet the winner of this bout. Ed "Strangler" Lewis later affirmed his claim on the title with an October 10, 1932, victory over Jack Sherry.

Ed Don George had been claiming rights to the world title ever since he defeated Henry DeGlane in Boston in 1933. Danno O'Mahoney, because of his victories over Jim Londos, Ed Don George, and Ed "Strangler" Lewis, became the closest thing to undisputed world champion at the time, representing a unification of sorts of the splintering of the world title that had taken place for several years.

During his title reign, Ali Baba was disqualified in a match against Dave Lewin held in Newark, New Jersey. The State Athletic Commission reversed the match decision and allowed Ali Baba to keep the title. Soon thereafter, however, a rule change was made which stated that the title cannot change hands on a disqualification.

The NWA decided to recognize Everett Marshall as champion because Steve "Crusher" Casey was out of the country and failed to defend the title on a regular basis.

The National Wrestling Alliance was organized in July 1948. At that particular time, Orville Brown was recognized as champion. Forced to retire due to injuries received in a November 11, 1949, auto accident, Brown relinquished his claim on the title. Lou Thesz was scheduled to meet Brown in a title match in St. Louis on November 25, 1949.

<sup>18</sup>Time of the match: 33:29. This was the first time the title changed hands inside a steel cage.

<sup>21</sup>This was a best-of-three falls match. Kerry Von Erich won the first fall in 15:21 with the clawhold; Ric Flair won the second fall in 3:24 with the figure-four; Flair won the third fall in 7:19 by rolling over a rollover.

<sup>26</sup>Time of the match: 20:38. Ric Flair is (according to WCW officials in April 1992) the first WCW World champion; Sting, therefore, as of April 1992, is a one-time NWA and one-time WCW World champion. In September 1991, Flair signed with the WWF and the NWA title was declared vacant.

<sup>29</sup>The title was declared vacant in September 1993 when WCW withdrew from the NWA. It was renamed the WCW International title, held in the year that followed by Rick Rude, Hiroshi Hase, Rude again, Sting, then Flair again, but was finally abandoned when it was unified with the WCW World title at Clash Of The Champions XXVII on June 23, 1994.

<sup>31</sup>Dan Severn captured the Ultimate Fight V championship on April 8, 1995, and the UFC Ultimate Ultimate championship on December 16, 1995.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>According to World Championship Wrestling, Ric Flair—who had been known worldwide as the NWA World champion—was acknowledged as the first WCW World champion during this reign.

<sup>2</sup>Ric Flair had been stripped of the WCW World title on July 1 after he could not come to a contractual agreement with WCW. Lex Luger and Barry Windham were determined to be the top contenders to the title.

<sup>4</sup>Ric Flair won a triangle match against Sting and Lex Luger by countout earlier on the card to determine a challenger for Savage's title that night.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>In December 1981, the Andersons were stripped of the title for being unable to defend the belts due to an October 1981 injury to Gene Anderson.

<sup>3</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been declared vacant when Rick Steamboat announced his retirement on December 25, 1983.

<sup>5</sup>This was a tournament final. Mike Rotundo & Steve Williams were stripped of the title after their May 7, 1989, defense against The Road Warriors, where Dan Spivey and Kevin Sullivan interfere on their behalf by attacking guest referee Nikita Koloff.

<sup>6</sup>The Steiners are regarded as the last NWA World tag team champions and the first WCW World tag team champions. A tag team tournament to fill the vacancy was held July 12, 1992, at the Great American Bash. The tourney was won by Terry Gordy & Steve Williams. Co-recognition of the champions as NWA/WCW World tag team champions continued through September 1, 1993, when WCW withdrew from the NWA, and the NWA in turn withdrew recognition of the champions, at the time Arn Anderson and Paul Roma, who then became known strictly as WCW World tag team champions.

NWA/WCW U.S. HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

(NOTE: While this particular version of the U.S. title was evidently initiated in 1975, our most reliable lineage information stretches back only to April 19, 1980.)

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>Wahoo McDaniel was stripped of the title in September 1981 after being injured by Abdullah the Butcher. A tournament was ordered to fill the title vacancy.

<sup>4</sup>Greg Valentine was awarded the title when the match was halted due to a bloody gash over Roddy Piper's left ear that rendered him unable to continue.

<sup>7</sup>This match was the final bout in a best-of-seven series to fill the vacancy created in May 1986 when Magnum T.A. was stripped of the title for attacking NWA President Bob Geigel.

<sup>8</sup>This match was a tournament final. Dusty Rhodes had been stripped of the title in April 1988 for hitting NWA President Jim Crockett with a baseball bat.

<sup>9</sup>This match was a tournament final. The title had been declared vacant when Lex Luger won the WCW World title on July 14, 1991.

<sup>10</sup>This match had been intended as a bout to determine the number-one contender to Rick Rude's title. When Rude was stripped of the belt in December 1992 for failing to defend it (he was injured), the bout instead became a contest to determine a new champion.

<sup>11</sup>This match was to fill the title vacancy. The title had been declared vacant in May 1993 as the result of a controversial double-pin situation between Dustin Rhodes and Rick Rude.

<sup>12</sup>Steve Austin had been awarded the title earlier in the evening via forfeit when Steamboat, his original opponent for the night, was unable to wrestle due to a back injury.

<sup>13</sup>Big Van Vader is stripped of the title in early-April 1995 for multiple violent offenses, particularly an assault on Dave Sullivan on March 7.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>This was the final round of a tournament to determine the NWA television champion. Dick Slater's U.S. title, of course, was not on the line in this match. Also note that in a semifinal encounter vs. Assassin #2, Mark Youngblood put feet up on middle ropes to gain the pinfall.

<sup>2</sup>This was a tournament final. The title was declared vacant when Dusty Rhodes was unable to defend the belt due to an injury.

<sup>4</sup>The belt had been held up since July 23, 1989, when Sting pinned The Great Muta, but tapes later showed that Muta's shoulders were off the mat.

<sup>6</sup>This was Clash of the Champions XX. It was also a no-DQ match with Paul E. Dangerously locked in a cage suspended above the ring. Rick Steamboat won with a flying bodypress off the top rope.

<sup>7</sup>This was the final round of a tournament to determine a new champion. Scott Steiner was stripped of the title when he went to the WWF in November 1992.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>5</sup>Stevie Richards substituted for Raven in a tag team match that had as a stipulation that if he got pinned, Raven would lose the belt.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup> This was the main event of the SuperClash II pay-per-view. The match was stopped due to Jerry Von Erich bleeding too heavily. Jerry Lawler, who held the AWA World title at the time, unified that title with Von Erich's World Class heavyweight title; the unified championship became known as the USWA heavyweight title.

<sup>2</sup> This was the final bout in a 21-man tournament. The Snowman had been stripped of the title on August 27 after he was injured and could not defend the belt within the required 30-day period.

<sup>5</sup>Jerry Lawler forfeited the title because he was injured by Sid Vicious earlier on the card and could not appear for the scheduled match.

<sup>6</sup>This was a tournament final; Jarrett had to vacate the title because of a back injury.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>5</sup>This was to declare a champion in the wake of the title having been held up after a Tommy Rich-Jeff Jarrett bout on September 25, 1993.

<sup>6</sup>This was a tournament final to fill a title vacancy. Doug Gilbert had been stripped of the title two weeks earlier for failing to make the required number of title defenses.

<sup>7</sup>The title had been held up following an April 10 match between Brian Lee and Brian Christopher.

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>Jeff Jarrett & Matt Borne are recognized as the first USWA tag team champions; the title was previously known as the World Class tag team title, but an August 18, 1989, victory by Eric Embry over P.Y. Chu-Hi for the heavyweight title ended months of legal wrangling and officially changed the name of World Class to the USWA.

<sup>5</sup>This was a tournament final. The Moondogs were stripped of the title due to Spike being injured.

<sup>7</sup>This was a match to award the title that had been held up on January 3, 1994, following a controversial hospital elimination match between Far Two Wild and PG-13.

<sup>8</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been vacated on April 16, 1994, following a controversial bout between The Moondogs and Billy Travis & Don Bass.

<sup>9</sup>The title had been held up on August 15, 1994, after champions PG-13 and Dante & The Great Mephisto battle to a simultaneous double-pin. Dante & Mephisto won the immediate rematch.

<sup>10</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been held up following a controversial match between The Heavenly Bodies and PG-13 on August 21, 1995, in Memphis, Tennessee.

<sup>11</sup>This was the finals of a tournament to fill a title vacancy created when Dundee was forced to leave the USWA.

<sup>12</sup>The title had been held up after a controversial match between the two teams nine days earlier; this was a rematch.

<sup>14</sup>The title was held up following a controversial match between the two teams.

<sup>2</sup>This was a tournament final; the title had been declared vacant earlier in 1987 when Tatsumi Fujinami and Kengo Kimura split up their team.

<sup>3</sup>IWGP officials declared the title vacant when Scott Steiner failed to appear for a scheduled title defense. Rick Steiner was allowed to choose a partner and wrestle Hiroshi Hase & The Great Muta for the vacant title.

<sup>4</sup>This match was held to fill the title vacancy created when Hiroshi Hase & The Great Muta stepped down from the championship shortly after Muta won the IWGP heavyweight title on May 3, 1995.

<sup>5</sup>The title was declared vacant a few days prior to this bout when it was determined that Masa Chono & Hiroyoshi Tenzan couldn't defend the championship on this date due to personal reasons (Chono's father passed away).

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>August 1960 saw the formation of the American Wrestling Association. Title recognition was given to Verne Gagne who, at the time, was generally recognized as the uncrowned champion in wrestling.

<sup>4</sup>Nick Bockwinkel was awarded the title due to Verne Gagne's retirement, his No. 1 ranking at the time, and his status as former champion.

<sup>5</sup>Nick Bockwinkel was scheduled to challenge Stan Hansen for the belt. Hansen left the arena, and it was determined by AWA President Stanley Blackburn that if he did not return by the end of the last match on the card, the title would be awarded to Bockwinkel by default. It was.

<sup>6</sup>The title was officially awarded to Curt Hennig on May 13, 1987, when, by a 4-2 vote, an AWA review board determined through videotape replay that there was no evidence Larry Zbyszko illegally aided Hennig.

<sup>7</sup>This was a battle royal victory; Larry Zbyszko last eliminated Tom Zenk to win the title. Jerry Lawler had been stripped of the title by AWA President Stanley Blackburn for missing seven mandatory title defenses in AWA territories.

<sup>8</sup>Larry Zbyszko was stripped of the title on December 12, 1990, when he left the AWA for WCW. Shortly thereafter, the AWA folded.

FOOTNOTES:

- <sup>1</sup>Tiny Mills & Stan Kowalski were NWA International and NWA World tag team champions, and held the belts when the latter title was renamed the AWA World tag team title.
- <sup>2</sup>Len Montana's leg was broken in a March 1961 bout; Hardboiled Haggerty chose Gene Kiniski as his replacement partner.
- <sup>3</sup>Hardboiled Haggerty and Gene Kiniski had split up while champions; Haggerty chose Bob Geigel as his new partner.
- <sup>4</sup>This was the final of a nine-team tournament. The title had been declared vacant earlier in the month when Otto Von Krupp was injured.
- <sup>5</sup>Larry Hennig's leg had been broken some time before this match by Verne Gagne, forcing Harley Race to choose a replacement partner.
- <sup>6</sup>Red Bastien chose Crusher as his new partner after Hercules Cortez was killed in an automobile accident in Minnesota on July 23, 1971.
- <sup>7</sup>Pat Patterson and Ray Stevens were awarded the belts by AWA President Stanley Blackburn when Jim Brunzell injured himself in a softball game and the championship team of Brunzell and Greg Gagne were unable to defend the belts.
- <sup>8</sup>Verne Gagne was vacationing in Europe at the time of the bout; Adonis and Ventura were awarded the belts by default.
- <sup>9</sup>Doug Somers was allowed to substitute for Boris Zukhov, who had moved from the AWA to the WWF.
- <sup>10</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been declared vacant on September 18, 1989, when Ken Patera was injured by Wayne Bloom and Mike Enos.
- <sup>11</sup>D.J. Peterson & The Trooper were the last champions. The AWA folded shortly thereafter.

FLORIDA STATE HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>Dory Funk Jr. was awarded the title via firfeit when Barry Windham, injured in an auto accident, was unable to defend the title.

<sup>3</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been declared vacant when Mike Graham was injured and unable to defend the title for 30 days.

<sup>6</sup>This match was to determine the champion after the title had been held up following a match in which Ron Bass used chloroform against Barry Windham.

<sup>7</sup>Mike Rotundo gave the title belt to Rick Steiner in December 1988. He was subsequently stripped of the title, and the championship was abandoned later that month.

FOOTNOTES:

FOOTNOTES:

<sup>1</sup>Mike George is the first Mid-South North American heavyweight champion, having defeated Mr. Wrestling II on February 16, 1979, for the title that was previously known as simply the North American title and renamed in August 1979.

<sup>2</sup>This was a tournament final. The title had been declared vacant in February 1983.

<sup>3</sup>This title was abandoned in May 1986 when Bill Watts' Mid-South region was renamed the UWF.

PROFESSIONAL WRESTLING: YEAR-BY-YEAR

In this section, we provide an overview of some of the more memorable dates in wrestling history, including unusual incidents, events, and other fascinating material related to the development of the sport and the public appearances of the stars over the years. To assemble this section, we pored through decades of newspaper clippings, magazine articles, published books, Pro Wrestling Illustrated Weekly newsletters, and much, much more. Since last year, we have greatly increased the number of entries in this section and, with your cooperation, future editions of the PWI ALMANAC will provide even more. If you have newspaper clippings, magazine articles, or other solid information you feel would be an asset to this year-by-year overview of the sport in next year's PWI ALMANAC, please turn to page 4 for information about where to send it. This section does not include a rundown of 1996 (see pages 6-17).

1845

May 25: William Muldoon is born in Belfast, NY.

1873

Wrestling's first masked wrestler enters the ring, in Paris. He is known simply as The Masked Wrestler.

William Muldoon

1877

February 6: William Muldoon wins the Greco-Roman championship from French champion Christol in two straight falls of 10 and 17 minutes. He also wins about $2,000 in side bets.

1878

April 27: Frank Gotch is born on a farm near Humboldt, IA.

July 20: George Hackenschmidt, later nicknamed "The Russian Lion," is born in Dorpat, Russia; his mother is Swedish, his father is German.

1880

January 19: William Muldoon defeats Thebaud Bauer at Gilmore's Gardens (later site of Madison Square Garden) in a best-of-three-falls match to emerge with the Greco-Roman championship. The bout draws more than 3,000 fans.

1887

Wrestler William Muldoon faces off against boxer John L. Sullivan before a crowd of about 2,000 in a baseball park in Gloucester, MA. According to boxing and wrestling historian

Nat Fleischer, Muldoon slammed Sullivan, and "the crowd rushed in and stopped the combat."

P.T. Barnum-managed grappler Ed Decker, a relative lightweight at 5'6" and 150 pounds, wins the Police Gazette wrestling belt in collar and elbow style.

March 14: Evan "Strangler" Lewis (the original Strangler Lewis) beats Joe Acton in Chicago, IL, to win the American Catch-as-Catch Can championship.

1893

March 2: Evan "Strangler" Lewis defeats Ernest Roeber in New Orleans, LA, to unify the American Catch-as-Catch Can and American Greco-Roman championships. The match is a best of five falls with alternating catch-as-catch can and Greco-Roman falls.

1894

April 5: Joe Stecher is born in Dodge, NE.

1895

April 20: Martin "Farmer" Burns defeats Evan "Strangler" Lewis, three falls to two, in Chicago to capture the American heavyweight championship.

1896

September: George Hackenschmidt makes his wrestling debut.

1897

January 2: Jim Londos is born Chris Theophelos in Argos, Greece. The youngest of 13 children, Londos' father was a Greek amateur champion.

October 26: Dan McLeod defeats Martin "Farmer" Burns in Indianapolis, IN, to capture the American heavyweight championship.

1899

April 2: Frank Gotch makes his pro debut, defeating Marshall Green in Humboldt, IA.

Joe Stecher

1901

The first tag team matches are held in the United States, in San Francisco.

November 7: Tom Jenkins defeats Dan McLeod to win the American heavyweight championship.

1902

December 26: Dan McLeod defeats Tom Jenkins in Worcester, MA, to regain the American heavyweight championship. Jenkins took the first fall in 59:00, while McLeod came back to win the second fall at 24:00. Jenkins forfeited the match and the title 20 minutes into the third fall due to a leg injury (later revealed to be blood poisoning).

1903

February 22: Tom Jenkins defeats Frank Gotch in Cleveland, OH, in the first meeting of the dominant American wrestlers of the era.

April 3: Tom Jenkins defeats Dan McLeod in Buffalo, NY, in straight falls (1:17:00 and 14:30) to regain the American heavyweight championship.

Fred Beell

1904

January 27: Frank Gotch beats Tom Jenkins in Bellingham, WA, to win the American heavyweight championship for the first time. Gotch took the first fall by pinfall, while Jenkins was disqualified in the second fall for fouling Gotch.

1905

February 2: Tom Jenkins is heavily criticized by his hometown press for running out of gas late in his unsuccessful title challenge against American heavyweight champion Frank Gotch in Cleveland. Jenkins took the first fall, with Gotch sweeping the last two.

March 15: Tom Jenkins defeats Frank Gotch at Madison Square Garden to regain the American heavyweight championship. After splitting the first two falls, Jenkins dug down and took the third fall in 10:31 to win the title for a record third time.

May 5: World Greco-Roman champion George Hackenschmidt thoroughly dominates American heavyweight champion Tom Jenkins in two straight falls at Madison Square Garden in a match to crown the World Catch-as-Catch-Can heavyweight champion. The match is the origin of the World heavyweight title in the United States.

May 19: In the crowning moment of his career, Tom Jenkins comes back two weeks after his thrashing at the hands of Hackenschmidt to defeat Frank Gotch at Madison Square Garden to retain his American heavyweight championship. The match, arguably the most epic of the decade, sees Jenkins take the first fall in 1:27:57, and Gotch evening it up by taking the second fall in 36:27. Jenkins came back to overpower Gotch to take the third fall at 11:10. A battered and exhausted Gotch had to be carried from the ring by his seconds.

May 23: Frank Gotch defeats Tom Jenkins to regain the American heavyweight championship. Jenkins takes the first fall in 26:00, but Gotch finishes strongly to take the last two falls in 14:00 and 17:00.

December 1: Arguably the biggest upset in pro wrestling history sees Fred Beell, outweighed by 50 pounds, beat Frank Gotch in New Orleans, LA, to win the American heavyweight championship. Beell won the third fall by throwing Gotch over the edge of mat, with Gotch striking his head on the floor. When the dazed Gotch was returned to the ring, Beell finished him off fast to take the title.

December 17: Frank Gotch beats Fred Beell in two one-sided falls in Kansas City, MO, to regain the American heavyweight championship and record-tying third time.

1908

April 3: Frank Gotch beats George Hackenschmidt at Chicago's Dexter Park Pavilion to win the World heavyweight title in a match that was three years in the making. The match was highly controversial, with Hackenschmidt claiming Gotch doused himself in oil or other substances to make himself impossible to grasp. In addition, all newspaper reports showed Gotch refusing to lock up and liberally using fouls and roughhouse tactics to damage the champion. After the ref turned a deaf ear to his appeals, Hackenschmidt finally quit the ring after two hours and three minutes. The referee ruled Hackenschmidt had forfeited and awarded the title to Gotch.

1909

April 14: Frank Gotch, in his first big U.S. match following a U.K. tour, defeats Bulgarian wrestler Yussiff Mahmut in two straight falls (8:00, 9:10) at Chicago's Dexter Park Pavilion.

November 25: Frank Gotch beats Stanislaus Zbyszko in a non-title match in Buffalo, NY. It's their first meeting, and the buzz begins for a title match between the two.

1910

June 1: In what may have been his crowning achievement, Frank Gotch defeats Stanislaus Zbyszko in the first fall of a Chicago contest in 6.4 seconds! Gotch went on to take the second fall in 27:33 to retain the World title.

1911

September 4: Three years after their controversial first match, Frank Gotch and George Hackenschmidt wrestle each other at Comiskey Park in Chicago. Gotch dominates to take straight falls over Hackenschmidt, who severely injured his knee in training for the match. The live gate of $87,053 (tickets range from $1 to $10) is the biggest ever at the time.

1912

October 2: Legendary Texas promoter Paul Boesch is born in Brooklyn, New York.

1913

April 1: Frank Gotch announces his retirement after beating George Lurich in Kansas City, MO.

1915

July 4: Joe Stecher beats Charlie Cutler in Omaha, NE, to become the first widely recognized World heavyweight champion after the retirement of Frank Gotch.

October 20: In the first World title meeting between the two wrestlers who would dominate the era, Joe Stecher beats Ed "Strangler" Lewis in Evansville, IN, to retain the title. Stecher won after 2:03:00 of the first fall when Lewis was unable to continue after being driven out of the ring and hitting his head on the floor.

November 1915 to January 1916: An international tournament is held at the Manhattan Opera House featuring many of the top stars of the era. Among the wrestlers are Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Alex Aberg, Waldek Zbyszko, B.F. Roller, and Charles Cutler. The talk of the tournament is The Masked Marvel, a hooded wrestler who came out of the crowd and demanded to be entered. The promoters finally relented, allowing Marvel to debut on December 9. Aberg eventually beats Zbyszko in the tourney final, while Lewis finishes in third place.

Waldek Zbyszko

1916

January 27: Joe Stecher retains the World title by beating The Masked Marvel in straight falls at Madison Square Garden. The Marvel was revealed to be Mort Henderson.

July 5: Joe Stecher and Ed "Strangler" Lewis wrestle to a legendary five-hour draw in Omaha, NE. Lewis was soundly hooted by the crowd for wrestling defensively and making no attempts to go on the offense against the champion. Some fans at points showered the ring seat cushions to show their displeasure.

Jim Londos makes his professional debut.

April 9: Joe Stecher forfeits the World title to Earl Caddock in Omaha, NE. Stecher won the first fall in 1:22:05. Caddock evened the match by taking the second fall in 1:40:10. Stecher claimed he wasn't pinned and was so livid that he refused to wrestle the third fall.

1920

January 30: After beating Waldek Zbyszko and Ed "Strangler" Lewis in late-1919 to earn a title shot, Joe Stecher regains the World title by beating Earl Caddock in 2:05:30 at Madison Square Garden.

December 13: Ed "Strangler" Lewis beats Joe Stecher in 1:41:56 at the 71st Regiment Armory in New York to win the World title for the first time.

1921

May 6: Nearly 11 years after his bitter defeat to Frank Gotch, Stanislaus Zbyszko finally wins the World title by beating Ed "Strangler" Lewis in 23:17 at the 22nd Regiment Armory in New York.

1925

January 8: In one of the bigger upsets of all-time, Wayne Munn beats Ed "Strangler" Lewis in Kansas City to win the World title.

Zbyszko and Lewis

1928

February 28: After chasing Joe Stecher for nearly three years, Ed "Strangler" Lewis wins the World title a third time, taking two out of three falls in just under 2½ hours in St. Louis.

1929

June 7: The Grand Wizard is born Ernie Roth in Canton, OH.

August 23: Dick Shikat beats Jim Londos in Philadelphia to gain recognition as a World heavyweight champion from the New York and Pennsylvania State Athletic Commissions. The two commissions had withdrawn their recognition from reigning champion Gus Sonneberg.

1930

April 4: Hugh Nichols beats Joe Banaski in the National Boxing (Wrestling) Association tournament final in Cincinnati, OH, to become the World light heavyweight champion.

June 6: Jim Londos beats Dick Shikat in Philadelphia to win the New York and Pennsylvania version of the World title.

April 13: Ed "Strangler" Lewis beats Ed Don George in straight falls at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles to win a then-record fourth World championship.

May 4: The World title is fragmented further after a controversial finish in the Henri DeGlane-Ed "Strangler" Lewis match in Montreal. DeGlane claimed to have been bitten by Lewis, and the referee agreed and awarded the match and title to DeGlane. Lewis denied the foul and asserted that DeGlane bit himself to get a cheap win. As a result, DeGlane was recognized as champion in parts of New England and Canada, while Lewis was recognized in states such as California and Illinois.

June 29: What is presumed to be wrestling's first sleeperhold is applied by Jim Londos against Ray Steele in the main event of a card at New York's Yankee Stadium in front of 21,000 fans. The controversial hold helps Londos win victory at the 1:09:12 mark. "Simply a new hold I've perfected which shuts off the jugular vein," Londos said the next day in the New York Sun.

1932

October 10: The New York Athletic Commission recognizes Ed "Strangler" Lewis as World heavyweight champion. The Commission had ordered Jim Londos to meet Lewis following Lewis' June 9 victory over Dick Shikat. When Londos refused, the Commission stripped him of title recognition.

October 25: Paul Boesch makes his professional wrestling debut, wrestling and defeating Benny Ginsburg in Staten Island, New York.

1933

Texas passes state laws legalizing and governing boxing and wrestling. Morris Siegel receives the first license issued in both sports.

February 20: Jim Browning brings Ed "Strangler" Lewis' final World title reign to a close by beating him at Madison Square Garden.

April 7: Joe Savoldi scores a surprising pinfall win over Jim Londos Chicago. Savoldi would claim Londos' version of the World title, and jumped to the New York wrestling promotions where he would lose to New York World champion Jim Browning. Londos ignored the loss to Savoldi and continued to bill himself as World champion.

December 18: Jim Browning and Ed Don George meet in a unification World title match at Madison Square Garden. The match is declared a draw after 1:40:00.

1934

March 5: Leroy McGurk wins the NWA World lightweight title, beating Hugh Nichols in Tulsa, OK.

June 25: Jim Londos returns to New York and beats Jim Browning at the Garden Bowl in Queens, NY, to win the New York version of the World title.

Browning vs. Londos

September 20: Jim Londos scores the first win of his career against bitter rival Ed "Strangler" Lewis at Chicago's Wrigley Field. The match draws a then-record gate of $96,302.

O'Mahoney vs. George

1935

June 27: Danno O'Mahoney upsets Jim Londos at Fenway Park in Boston to win the New York version of the World title.

July 30: Danno O'Mahoney beats Ed Don George in Boston to become the undisputed World champion.

Jim Crockett Sr. forms Jim Crockett Promotions.

Vince McMahon Sr. promotes his first wrestling card.

1936

March 2: Dick Shikat shocks the wrestling world by beating Danno O'Mahoney for the World title. The promotional alliance that brought about an undisputed World champion the year before quickly dissolves and sends the title picture back into confusion.

April 20: Climaxing an eight-week tournament, Albion Britt beats Ted Christy in finals at Hollywood Legion Stadium in California to become the first NWA World junior heavyweight champion.

1937

June 30: Bronko Nagurski beats Dean Detton in Minneapolis to win one of the many versions of the World heavyweight title. Nagurski would go on to win the National Wrestling Association version of the World title on two occasions.

October 2: The first "Texas tornado" tag team match (in which all four men are in the ring at the same time) is held in Houston, the brainchild of promoter Morris Sigel: Milo Steinborn & Whiskers Savage vs. Tiger Daula & Fazul Mohammed.

October 11: Danny McShain beats Wild Red Berry at Hollywood Legion Stadium in California to win the NWA World light heavyweight title. McShain and Berry would dominate the division for the next decade, combining to win the title more than 20 times.

December 29: Lou Thesz beats Everett Marshall in St. Louis, MO, to win a version of the World title for the first time.

1938

Paul Boesch helps promote the first mud wrestling match.

January 23: Shohei "Giant" Baba is born.

February 11: Steve Casey beats Lou Thesz in Boston, MA to win the old AWA version of the World heavyweight title.

August 23: Bronko Nagurski beats The Purple Shadow in San Francisco. The Purple Shadow is unmasked and is revealed to be Bill Longson.

September 14: Everett Marshall is awarded the National Wrestling Association's version of the World title.

November 18: Jim Londos beats Bronko Nagurski in Philadelphia to win a claim to the World title. Londos never loses this version of the title, defending it successfully across the country until he retires.

December 5: Danny McShain beats Leroy McGuirk at Hollywood Legion Stadium in California to regain the NWA World light heavyweight title. McGuirk moves up in weight to concentrate on winning the World junior heavyweight title.

1939

June 19: Leroy McGuirk beats John Swenski at Hollywood Legion Stadium in California to win the NWA World junior heavyweight title.

1940

March 7: After a decade of being a top contender, Ray Steele finally wins a World heavyweight title by beating Bronko Nagurski in St. Louis for the National Wrestling Association crown.

Ray Steele

July 15: Boxer Jack Dempsey defeats wrestler Bull Curry in 1:05 of the second round of a match in Detroit.

1941

August 9: Bill Longson beats Frank Sexton in San Jose, CA, to win the Pacific Coast title.

December 1: Billy Varga wins the NWA World light heavyweight title for the first time by beating Wild Red Berry at Hollywood Legion Stadium in California.

1944

January 21: The City Auditorium in Houston, TX, hosts one of the most unusual nights of wrestling ever: a joint benefit with wrestlers and the Houston Symphony Orchestra that brought in over a million dollars in war bonds (ringside seats were had for a $500 war bond purchase). Wild Bill Longson battles Lou Thesz in the main event. A match between Ellis Bashara and Dave Levin is set to symphonic arrangement by the Orchestra; Bashara, after winning the bout, pushes the conductor aside to lead the Orchestra himself!

1946

February 23: Gory Guerrero beats Tarzan Lopez in Mexico City to win the NWA World middleweight title. Guerrero, the father of Chavo, Mondo, Hector, and Eddy Guerrero, would go on to win the NWA World titles in the welterweight and light heavyweight divisions.

March 15: El Santo beats Pete Pancoff in Mexico City to win the NWA World welterweight title (now part of the unified eight title J-Crown). El Santo would go on to become the biggest star in the history of Mexican wrestling. He was the father of current superstar El Hijo del Santo.

May 19: Andre the Giant is born in Grenoble, France.

June 14: Bruiser Brody is born.

1947

Killer Kowalaski makes his pro debut.

Former boxer Tony Galento makes his pro debut, defeating "Nature Boy" Buddy Rogers.

A New York match between Buddy Rogers and Billy Darnell is such a wild brawl, a ringside fan dies of a heart attack. Both wrestlers are disqualified from New York competition for two years.

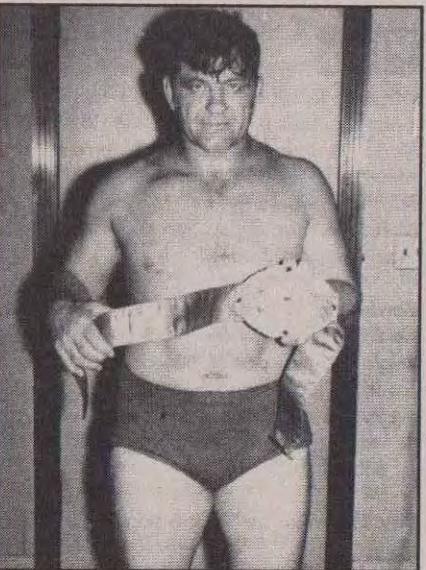

Fred Blassie suffers a head injury that places him on the verge of retirement when he is bounced out of the ring by Rudy Dusek.

1948

Portland, OR, promoter Don Owen's cards are first aired on television.

Maurice "Mad Dog" Vachon represents Canada in wrestling in the Olympic Games.

July 19: The current version of the National Wrestling Alliance is formed, in Waterloo, IA. The first NWA president is P.L. "Pinkie" George.

Orville Brown

Later in the year, Orville Brown is recognized as the first NWA World champion.

1949

Sky Low Low wins a 30-man tournament in Paris to emerge as midget world champion.

Antonino Rocca arrives in the U.S.

Verne Gagne turns pro.

January: Paul Boesch announces his first televised wrestling match.

February 22: Gorgeous George headlines the first Madison Square Garden wrestling card in 12 years, against Ernie Dusek; George pins Dusek in 26:57 in front of 4,197 fans. The New York press is not impressed by George's theatrics. One New York Times sportswriter writes two days later: "Gorgeous George? Phooey!"

April 20: Primo Carnera's winning streak ends at 321 when he is defeated by Antonino Rocca.

November 27: The National Wrestling Alliance recognizes Lou Thesz as its World heavyweight champion. Thesz, the National Wrestling Association World champion, was scheduled to meet the Alliance's World champion Orville Brown on November 25 in a title unification match, but Brown suffered a career ending injury on November 1.

1950

Primo Carnera is thrown off his feet for the first time, by Don Eagle.

Jim Londos comes out of retirement to wrestle Primo Carnera at Chicago's Wrigley Field. The match draws wrestling's biggest gate of the year: $54,000.

July 27: Lou Thesz defeats Gorgeous George in Chicago to merge the old AWA version of the World title into the NWA World title.

November 13: Verne Gagne beats Sonny Myers in Tulsa, OK, to win the vacant NWA World junior heavyweight title.

1951

Japan's first professional wrestling card is held.

November 19: Danny McShain beats Verne Gagne at the Ellis Auditorium in Memphis, TN, to win the NWA World junior heavyweight title. McShain joins Leroy McGuirk as the only men to win both the NWA World junior heavyweight and World light heavyweight titles.

Gagne moves up to the heavyweight division.

Carpentier vs. Thesz

1952

The Sheik makes his pro debut.

May 21: Lou Thesz beats Baron Michele Leone in Los Angeles to merge the California version of the World heavyweight title into the NWA World title. Thesz is, at that moment, the closest any one man would get in the last half century to being the undisputed World heavyweight champion. The match draws the first $100,000-plus gate in U.S. wrestling history: $103,277.

1953

Capt. Lou Albano makes his pro debut in Montreal, Canada, by defeating Bob Lozano.

March 6: The first brass knuckles match is held, pitting "Irish" Danny McShain against "Wild" Bull Curry. The match, promoted by Paul Boesch in Houston, TX, is won by Curry.

May 11: New York lifts a state ban on tag team wrestling.

September 3: Verne Gagne is awarded the NWA United States heavyweight title.

1954

January 11: Wilber Snyder beats Mr. Moto at Hollywood Legion Stadium in California to win the International TV title.

December 22: Rikidozan beats rival Masahiko Kimura in Tokyo to win the Japanese title.

1955

August 5: Pepper Gomez beats Mr. Moto in Houston to win the NWA Texas heavyweight title for the first time.

1956

April 7: Wilber Snyder beats Verne Gagne in Chicago to win the NWA U.S. title, ending Gagne's 31-month title reign.

1957

April 1: Danny Hodge appears on the cover of Sports Illustrated.

June 14: Edouard Carpentier beats Lou Thesz in Chicago when Thesz is injured and unable to wrestle the third fall. Carpentier is announced as the NWA World champion in the building, but the NWA rules Thesz is still champion. A number of midwestern promoters recognize Carpentier as a World champion, creating the first crack in the NWA title being seen as the undisputed title.

October 7: Lou Thesz meets Rikidozan in Tokyo for the first-ever NWA World title match held in Japan. The match ends in a 60-minute time-limit draw.

November 11: Ray Stevens beats Tor Yamata in Birmingham, AL, to win the Southern junior heavyweight title.

November 19: Two police officers are injured as a riot in Madison Square Garden ensues following a tag team bout pitting Antonino Rocca and Edouard Carpentier against Dick the Bruiser and Dr. Jerry Graham.

Rocco vs. Graham

1958

April 12: Verne Gagne beats Dick the Bruiser in Chicago to win the NWA U.S. title for the second time.

June 5: Dory Funk Sr. beats Angelo Savoldi in Amarillo, TX, to win the NWA World junior heavyweight title.

August 27: Rikidozan beats Lou Thesz in Los Angeles to win the NWA International title. The title is now the crown jewel of All-Japan's Triple Crown title.

1959

Bruno Sammartino makes his pro debut.

May 25: A month after putting on the costume, Jushin Liger beats Shiro Koshinaka in Osaka to win the IWGP junior heavyweight title for the first time.

May 28: Jake Roberts undergoes surgery to remove a ruptured disk from his neck. He is sidelined for nearly four months.

Injured Tommy Young

June 6: After a two-year feud, Genichiro Tenryu finally pins Jumbo Tsuruta in a singles match, winning the Triple Crown in the process. The match, held at Budokan Hall in Tokyo, is the consensus Japanese Match of the Year.

June 25: Boxer Leon Spinks loses to Greg Wajakowski in a boxer-wrestler bout in Toledo, OH.

July 4: Davey Boy Smith, Jason the Terrible, and Chris Benoit are injured in a head-on automobile accident in Jasper, Alberta. Smith suffers a cracked vertebra in his back and needs 100 stitches in his head after being thrown through the windshield of the vehicle. Jason suffers two fractures in his left leg, while Benoit suffers an injured right knee. All three eventually return to ring action.

August 11: Art Barr, also known as Beetlejuice, is arrested in Eugene, OR, and is charged with raping of a 19-year-old fan on July 16.

August 28: The first issue of Pro Wrestling Illustrated Weekly, cover-dated September 11, is published.

September 16: Terry Allen—Magnum T.A.—marries Tracey Cedarburg in Chesapeake, VA.

November 22: Big Van Vader beats El Canek in Mexico City to win the UWA heavyweight title. With the win, Vader simultaneously holds major heavyweight titles in Asia (New Japan's IWGP title), Europe (CWA title), and North America (UWA title).

November 28: Veteran NWA referee Tommy Young suffers career-ending neck and back injuries while officiating a match between Mike Rotundo and Tommy Rich at Center Stage Theater in Atlanta.

November 29: The Japanese wrestling world is shocked as Akira Maeda's UWF promotion draws 60,000 fans to sell out the Tokyo Dome. Maeda beats Willie Wilhelm in the main event.

1990

February 6: Sting suffers a ruptured left patella tendon at Clash of the Champions X. He's forced to bow out of an upcoming title match against Ric Flair, and Lex Luger takes his place.

February 10: Rival promotions New Japan and All-Japan work together for only the second time. The result is a sold-out Tokyo Dome crowd of 63,900 fans, paying $3.2-million. Among the 11 matches, Genichiro Tenryu and Tiger Mask II beat Riki Choshu and George Takano, and Big Van Vader retains the IWGP title by going to a double-countout against Stan Hansen.

February 23: Twelve days after kaying Mike Tyson in Tokyo for the undisputed heavyweight boxing championship, special referee Buster Douglas kayos Randy Savage during an argument following a Savage-Hulk Hogan bout (part of an NBC prime time special). Tyson had originally been scheduled to serve as special referee in the bout, but that changed with Douglas' Tokyo win.

April 13: All-Japan, New Japan, and the WWF put on a combined show at the Tokyo Dome. The top matches see Hulk Hogan pin

Douglas nails Savage

Stan Hansen and Genichiro Tenryu pin Randy Savage.

May 14: After nearly six years as the second Tiger Mask, Mitsuhiro Misawa takes off the mask in the middle of a tag match in Tokyo to reveal his identity.

June 8: A new superstar is born at Tokyo's Budokan Hall as Mitsuhiro Misawa upsets long-time top All-Japan star Jumbo Tsuruta. In the semi-final, Stan Hansen pins Terry Gordy to win the Triple Crown for the first of a record four times.

July 4: Brutus Beefcake suffers massive facial injuries in a parasailing accident in Lutz, FL, as the knees of a parasailer crash into his head. He undergoes 8½ hours of surgery during which eight steel plates, 40 screws, and more than 100 staples are inserted into his head.

September: Tully Blanchard announces his retirement from wrestling to devote his life to the ministry.

September 1: Eddie Gilbert, driving his brother Doug's car, attempts to run down Jerry Lawler during a broadcast of USWA Championship Wrestling. Lawler was trying to save USWA matchmaker Eddie Marlin, who had just fired Eddie and Doug Gilbert from the USWA and was escorting them from the building. Remarkably, Lawler escapes the incident with just a bruised hip.

November 6: Jesse Ventura is elected mayor of Brooklyn Park, MN, defeating 18-year incumbent Jim Krautkremer.

December 26: Lou Thesz, 74, wrestles impressively, but is defeated by his former student, Masa Chono, 27, on a New Japan card in Hamamatsu, Japan. In the main event, Tatsumi Fujinami beats old Ishigun rival Riki Choshu to regain the IWGP heavyweight title.

1991

March 21: New Japan and WCW hold a joint show that draws 64,500 fans to the Tokyo Dome. The main event sees IWGP heavyweight champion Tatsumi Fujinami pin NWA World champion Ric Flair in a double title match to "win" the NWA title. In Japan, Fujinami is recognized as the NWA champion, while in the U.S., WCW disputes the finish. In the summer of 1991, the NWA Board "officially" recognizes the match as a title change, and that Flair had regained the title by pinning Fujinami on May 19 in St. Petersburg, FL.

June 8: AWA and PWA wrestler Derrick Dukes squares off against former New York Jets defensive end Mark Gastineau in Salem, VA, in Gastineau's pro boxing debut. Dukes, 2-1 as a boxer coming into the bout, is kayoed by Gastineau in the first round. He later admits to having taken a dive.

June 12: Scott Steiner's left biceps tendon is torn from the bone when he is attacked by Dick Slater and Dick Murdoch following a successful defense of the Steiners' WCW World tag team title against Hiroshi Hase and Masa Chono at Clash of the Champions XV.

June 27: Dr. George T. Zahorian, a physician who formerly served as a ringside physician at WWF events in Pennsylvania, is convicted on 12 of 14 counts of selling anabolic steroids to four pro wrestlers and a weightlifter in a trial held in Harrisburg, PA.

Chono vs. Muta

He is subsequently sentenced to three years in prison.

July 2: In one of the decade's most shocking events, NWA/WCW World champion Ric Flair quits/is fired by WCW.

July 16: At a press conference in New York, WWF head Vince McMahon announces that WWF stars will now undergo mandatory testing for anabolic steroids as part of its anti-drug policy. The policy is called into question when testing does not begin until November, and the second round of tests are not taken until early-1992.

July 16: Appearing on The Arsenio Hall Show, WWF World champion Hulk Hogan sternly declares, "I've trained 20 years, two hours a day, to look like I do. But the thing I am not, is I'm not a steroid abuser, and I do not use steroids." Hogan would contradict those statements at Vince McMahon's 1994 trial.

August 3: Cactus Jack and Eddie Gilbert wrestle a best-of-three series in Philadelphia. The first match is a fall-counts-anywhere bout, the second is a stretcher match, and the third is a cage match.

August 11: Masahiro Chono wins New Japan's first Grade One (G1) tournament by beating The Great Muta (Keiji Muto) in the finals in Tokyo. Chono beats Riki Choshu, Bam Bam Bigelow, and Shinya Hashimoto on the way to the finals.

August 26: After the SummerSlam PPV ends, Jake Roberts, and The Undertaker crash the reception of Randy Savage and Miss Elizabeth. The incident launches a heated and twisted feud between Roberts and Savage, that includes at one point Savage being bit by one of Roberts' snakes. The feud climaxes with a Savage victory at the Tuesday in Texas pay-per-view on December 3.

September 8: The NWA Board strips Ric Flair of recognition as NWA champion.

September 10: Ric Flair wrestles his first WWF bout, forcing Jim Powers to submit to the figure-four leglock in Cornwall, Ontario.

October: Ralston Purina Co. launches WWF Superstars cereal in television commercials broadcast on the West Coast.

October 23: The first-ever match between WWF World champion Hulk Hogan and Ric Flair takes place in Dayton, OH; Flair wins the bout by countout.

December 6: Dynamite Kid, long a legend in Japan and best known in the U.S. as part of The British Bulldogs tag team with Davey Boy Smith, announces his retirement from the ring during a ceremony in Budokan, Japan. Also on the card, Terry Gordy and Steve Williams become the first team to win All-Japan's annual tag team tournament in consecutive years.

1992

January 20: Dino Bravo wrestles his last match before retiring, defeating The Barbarian at The Forum in Montreal.

February 8: Kerry Von Erich is arrested in Richardson, TX, for attempting to falsify two drug prescriptions. Shortly after he is released on $6,000 bond, his father, Fritz Von Erich, says that Kerry would be entering a drug rehabilitation program.

March 2: Two top-ranking WWF officials—Pat Patterson and Terry Garvin—resign their positions on the heels of allegations of sexual misconduct leveled by former WWF employees, wrestler Barry Orton, a former front office worker, and two former ring attendants.

March 6: Former WWF star Paul Roma's pro boxing debut results in a fourth-round loss to Jerry Arentzen in Callicoon, NY, when Roma's manager, Kevin Rooney, throws in the towel.

March 13: WWF head Vince McMahon appears on CNN's Larry King Live to address allegations of sexual misconduct and steroid abuse in the WWF. McMahon says the allegations of sexual misconduct are "a bunch of bunk."

March 16: The WWF denies allegations of sexual misconduct within its organization and promises to conduct its own investigation into the charges. "We do not believe the charges in these stories to be true," the statement says, in part, "and we are so outraged that we have asked our attorneys to determine what legal action might be appropriate."

April 1: Former WWF star Paul Roma scores his first win as a pro boxer, a 47-second TKO victory over Norman Fortini in Randolph, MA.

April 4: The USA Network debuts WBF Body Stars, TitanSports' new weekly bodybuilding program. The show, featuring former WCW World champion Lex Luger, is a ratings failure.

May 30: After 68 years in the wrestling promoting business, Don Owen relinquishes control of Pacific Northwest Wrestling and says goodbye to the fans.

July 31: WWF World champion Randy Savage appears on The Arsenio Hall Show and admits that he experimented with steroids, pointing out that the muscle-enhancing drugs were legal when he did so.

September 2: WCW's Clash of the Champions XX celebrates 20 years of wrestling on TBS. It also marks the last U.S. appearance of Andre the Giant.

October 1: Kerry Von Erich is sentenced on six felony counts of prescription forgery. He receives a 10-year suspended sentence, 10 years of supervised probation, and a $6,000 fine.

October 30: Eric Embry suffers a badly bruised liver and severe ligament and cartilage damage to his left knee when his car is run off the road in Beaver Dam, KY.

December 14: The Hellraisers—Road Warrior Hawk and Power Warrior (Kensuke Sasaki)—beat Scott Norton and Tony Halme in Tokyo to win the IWGP tag team title. For Hawk, the win marks a unique accomplishment: winning the top tag team titles of the five major promotions in the U.S. and Japan. He previously had held (with Animal) the AWA, NWA, and WWF World tag titles along with All-Japan's International tag title.

Don Owen

Konnan

1993

January 4: In a rematch of a feud started in All-Japan in 1985, WAR's Genichiro Tenryu pins New Japan's Riki Choshu in the main event of New Japan's annual Tokyo Dome card. In the semifinal, IWGP champion The Great Muta (Keiji Muto) pins NWA champion Masahiro Chono in a title vs. title match.

January 29: The WWF donates $100,000 to relief efforts in Somalia during a ceremony at New York's Madison Square Garden.

February 21: Ric Flair returns to WCW, at SuperBrawl III in Asheville, NC, after approximately 18 months of competing in the WWF.

April 2: The All-Japan Women's promotion holds a multipromotional card at Yokohama Arena to celebrate the promotion's 25th anniversary. The show draws a sellout crowd of 16,500 and shatters the all-time women's gate record with $1.2-million in receipts. The top matches see AJW's Akira Hokuto beat LLPW's Shinobu Kandori in the women's singles match of the year, while AJW's Manami Toyota and Toshiyo Yamada beat FMW's Megumi Kudo and Combat Toyoda.

April 30: AAA draws 48,000 fans to Plaza de Toros in Mexico City for Triple Mania. In the main event, Cien Caras wins a retirement match over Konnan due to the interference of Jake Roberts.

May 28: Riki Choshu suffers a broken bone around the rim of his right eye as the result of a Kengo Kimura elbowdrop during a match in Tokyo.

June 12: Jushin Liger suffers a broken left leg in a match against 2 Cold Scorpio in Chigasaki, Japan.

July 4: Lex Luger bodyslams Yokozuna on the deck of the U.S.S. Intrepid in New York City.

August 28: The Mexico-based AAA organization runs a card at the Los Angeles Sports Arena that draws a sellout of 16,742 fans paying $243,000—and turns away nearly 8,000 fans at the door. In the main event, Konnan beats Cien Caras and Jake Roberts in a triangle match.

October 28: An early-morning brawl at the Moat House Hotel in Blackburn, England, takes place between Sid Vicious and Arn Anderson. Both men are rushed to a local hospital. Anderson receives approximately 20 stab wounds from a pair of scissors, while Vicious suffers four puncture wounds.

November 18: WWF head Vince McMahon is indicted on charges of possession of anabolic steroids and conspiracy to distribute anabolic steroids, facing up to eight years in prison and a $500,000 fine if convicted on both counts.

December 5: UWFI champion Nobuhiko Takada forces WCW World champion Big Van Vader to submit to the cross armbreaker in a non-title match at Tokyo's Jingu Baseball Stadium. The matchup of two major champions draws a sellout crowd of 46,168.

1994

February 28: Promoter Jim Crockett holds a taping in New York for a new venture entitled World Wrestling Network. Stars appearing at the taping include Sabu, Terry Funk, Road Warrior Hawk, Public Enemy, Jake Roberts, and Missy Hyatt.

March 16: Two-thirds of Cactus Jack's right ear is severed when he becomes entangled in the ropes during a match in Germany against Big Van Vader.

April 13: Jesse Ventura is awarded $809,958 by a federal jury in St. Paul, MN, as the result of a lawsuit against TitanSports, parent company of the WWF. All but $8,625 was for royalties on videotapes on which Ventura did color commentary. Ventura originally sought $2-million in the case.

April 16: New Japan's "Wild Pegasus" Chris Benoit wins the seven-promotion "Super J Cup" junior heavyweight tournament at a sold-out Sumo Hall in Tokyo. In the finals, Benoit beats Michinoku Pro's Great Sasuke in the junior heavyweight match of the decade, sparking comparisons to the revolutionary Tiger Mask vs. Dynamite Kid matches of the early-1980s. It's Sasuke, though, who's the show's true revelation, beating New Japan's El Samurai and then current IWGP junior heavyweight kingpin Jushin Liger on the way to the finals.

April 16: Across town at Tokyo's Budokan Hall, Toshiaki Kawada pins Steve Williams with a power bomb in a thrilling 25:49 match to win All-Japan's annual Champions Carnival singles tournament.

April 29: Charles Austin, a preliminary wrestler left paralyzed after a 1990 WWF tag team match in Tampa, FL, against The Rockers, is awarded $26.7-million in a lawsuit against the federation.

June 3: For the third year running, Triple Crown champion Mitsuharu Misawa turns back the challenge of former tag team partner and now bitter rival Toshiaki Kawada at

Jesse Ventura

Budokan Hall in Tokyo. This one was the hardest-fought bout yet, as Kawada pushes Misawa for an epic 35:50 before Misawa knocks him out with his most lethal finisher, the dangerous and rarely used Tiger Driver '91.

June 9: Fred Blassie, Bobo Brazil, James Dudley, Gorilla Monsoon, Buddy Rogers, Arnold Skaaland, and Chief Jay Strongbow are inducted into the WWF Hall of Fame during ceremonies at the Omni Inner Harbor Hotel in Baltimore.

June 11: Hulk Hogan signs with WCW.

July 5: The trial of WWF head Vince McMahon on steroid distribution charges gets underway in Uniondale, NY.

July 22: WWF head Vince McMahon is acquitted of conspiracy to distribute steroids to wrestlers following 16 hours of jury deliberations. The announcement of the decision, at a federal courtroom in Uniondale, NY, saw spectators applaud.

August 7: "Mr. August" Masahiro Chono beats Kensuke Sasaki in Tokyo to win his third New Japan G1 tournament championship in four years.

August 27: Eastern Championship Wrestling renames itself Extreme Championship Wrestling.

September 24: IWGP junior heavyweight champion Jushin Liger breaks his leg in a tag team match. The injury forces him to vacate the title, and puts him out of action for nearly 11 months.

November 20: All-Japan Women's draw 42,500 fans to the Tokyo Dome for the biggest show in the history of women's wrestling. The 10-hour, 23-match card is headlined by the V-Top tournament of champions. In the finals, EMLL champion Akira Hokuto beats WWWA champion Aja Kong. Also on the card, Bull Nakano beats Madusa for the WWF Women's title.

December 3: After more than a decade of competing in the WWF, "Macho Man" Randy Savage makes his WCW debut on a live broadcast of WCW Saturday Night.

Vince McMahon

Lawrence Taylor

March 13: Crush is arrested at his home in Kona, HI, after narcotics officers search his home and discover 500 units of anabolic steroids and several unregistered semi-automatic guns. He is released on $10,275 bail.

March 28: Lawrence Taylor receives major mainstream publicity when he attends a public workout in New York's Times Square prior to his WrestleMania XI bout against Bam Bam Bigelow.

April 2: The 13-promotion Weekly Pro card draws a sellout crowd of 60,000 fans to the Tokyo Dome. Each promotion sends what it believes is its best matchup, sparking a competition among the promotions for the best match on the card. The card reaches its emotional climax as All-Japan's wrestlers appear at the Tokyo Dome for the first time in five years. The "Best Six" match, featuring Mitsuhiro Misawa, Kenta Kobashi, and Stan Hansen vs. Toshiaki Kawada, Akira Taue, and Johnny Ace electrifies the crowd and goes to a 30-minute draw.

April 7: NWA champion Dan Severn wins the Ultimate Fighting Championship V in Charlotte, NC.

April 28: Fred Blassie suffers a heart attack that results in triple-bypass heart surgery on May 3. The former wrestler and manager makes a full recovery.

April 28: Approximately 150,000 fans attend a New Japan Pro Wrestling event in Korea, setting an attendance record that stands for one day, as nearly 190,000 fans attend the second day of wrestling at the Korean cultural festival.

April 28 & 29: New Japan draws 320,000 fans over two nights to shatter the wrestling attendance record.

April 30: In an incident that launches the hottest Mexican feud of the year, Mascara Ano Dos Mil breaks a beer bottle over the head of Perro Aguayo in Guadalajara, allowing Dos Mil's brother Cien Caras to win a triangle match over Aguayo and Konnan.

May 5: In Japan, FMW's top star, Atsushi Onita, retires after beating Hayabusa at Kawasaki Baseball Stadium in front of 48,000 fans.

May 6: The Sheik, still semi-active at age 70, suffers a heart attack while getting into a taxi in Tokyo. He makes a full recovery.

May 13: The Boston Garden hosts its last pro wrestling show ever, the WWF's "A Night To Remember."

June 9: Toshiaki Kawada and Akira Taue beat Mitsuhiro Misawa and Kenta Kobashi to win All-Japan's Unified tag team title. Kawada pins Misawa for the first time ever to end the 42:37 match that is the consensus Japanese Tag Team Match of the Year.

June 13: Chris Benoit wins New Japan's annual Super Juniors round-robin tournament for the second time by beating Shinjiro Otani in Hiroshima.

June 24: The Grand Wizard, Fabulous Moolah, Antonino Rocca, Ivan Putski, George "The Animal" Steele, Pedro Morales, and Ernie Ladd are inducted into the WWF Hall of Fame.

1995

January 7: Tully Blanchard comes out of retirement to wrestle ECW champion Shane Douglas to a 60-minute draw at the ECW Arena in Philadelphia.

January 24: Former NWA World champion Harley Race suffers a broken hip and two broken hands in a car accident in Kansas City, MO.

Jack Tunney

July 12: WWF President Jack Tunney resigns.

July 22: The Ultimate Warrior wrestles his first match in more than two years before 2,000 fans in Las Vegas, NV; he defeats the Honky Tonk Man.

July 23: Pro wrestler Hiroshi Hase is elected to the Japanese House of Councilors.

August: WWF preliminary wrestler Chuck Austin, to whom a federal jury awarded $26.7-million in an April 1994 lawsuit against the WWF, settles his dispute with the federation out of court. According to the settlement, Austin will receive approximately $7-million, while his legal team will receive approximately $3-million.

August 15: Keiji Muto beats Shinya Hashimoto to win New Japan's annual G1 tournament. It marks the first time in the tourney's five-year history that the "sitting" IWGP champion wins the G1.

August 20: Cactus Jack beats Terry Funk to win the IWA King of Death Matches tournament at Kawasaki Stadium in Japan.

August 29: Big Van Vader and Paul Orndorff are involved in a locker room brawl at Atlanta's Center Stage Theater that results in Vader's suspension and eventual dismissal from the organization.

August 30: JWP's Dynamite Kansai beats Aja Kong to win All-Japan Women's WWWA Women's title. Kansai is the first "outsider" ever to win AJW's top prize.

September 4: WCW debuts Monday Nitro, live from The Mall of America in Bloomington, MN. Top WWF star Lex Luger shocks the wrestling world by appearing on the show, speaking derisively about the WWF and its stars, and claiming he wants a shot at Hulk Hogan and the WCW World title; Hogan gives him that title shot a week later, and the match ends in disqualification when members of The Dungeon of Doom enter the ring.

September 11: WCW wins the first head-to-head meeting of Monday Nitro vs. Monday Night Raw, posting a 2.5 rating to Raw's 2.2.

September 11: Jesse Ventura scores a major victory when the U.S. Court of Appeals Eighth Circuit Court in St. Paul, MN, affirms an April 3, 1994, verdict awarding Ventura $809,958 in a lawsuit against the WWF over his participation in wrestling videotapes.

September 25: Ted Turner agrees to sell TBS and all its holdings, including WCW, to Time Warner Inc., which would take control in 1996.

October 9: In the biggest singles match in Japanese wrestling history, New Japan's IWGP heavyweight champion beats UWFI's Nobuhiko Takada with the figure-four in 16:16. The match draws 67,000 fans, paying $6.1-million, the largest live gate in pro wrestling history.

October 14: A sleeping Shawn Michaels is pulled out of a car in front of Club 37 in Syracuse, NY, and beaten by several men (reports range from four to 10), who flee the scene before police arrive.

October 28: Crush is sentenced to five years probation after pleading no-contest to 11 counts of drug and weapons charges.

October 28: A near-riot occurs at ECW Arena in Philadelphia when Cactus Jack brings a chair wrapped in a flaming towel that ignites part of Terry Funk's clothing. Funk flings the towel into the crowd, the lights go out, fire extinguishers are squirted toward the crowd, and panic ensues.

October 29: Hulk Hogan pushes The Giant off the roof of Cobo Hall in Detroit following a monster truck battle between the two men.

THE 10 BIGGEST CROWDS IN PRO WRESTLING HISTORY

ATTENDANCE	DATE	LOCATION	SITE	ADDITIONAL INFORMATION
190,000*	04-29-95	Pyongyang, North Korea	Mayday Stadium	This card, and the April 28 card, below, were part of the three-day Pyongyang International Sports And Culture Festival For Peace. The live gate was approximately $8.5-million. In the main event, Antonio Inoki defeated Ric Flair in 14:52 of the first-ever meeting of the two legendary stars.
150,000*	04-28-95	Pyongyang, North Korea	Mayday Stadium	See note, above. The live gate was approximately $7-million. In the main event, IWGP champion Shinya Hashimoto battled to a 20-minute draw against Scott Norton.
93,173	03-29-87	Pontiac, Michigan	Pontiac Silverdome	This was the WWF's WrestleMania III pay-per-view event. The live gate was approximately $1.6-million. In the main event, Hulk Hogan retained his World title by pinning Andre the Giant.
80,355	08-29-92	London, England	Wembley Stadium	This was the WWF's SummerSlam '92 pay-per-view event. The live gate was approximately $2.7-million. In the main event, WWF World champion Randy Savage retained his title against The Ultimate Warrior. Also on the card: The British Bulldog captured the Intercontinental title from Bret Hart.
74,080	08-28-86	Toronto, Ontario	Exhibition Stadium	The live gate was approximately $1.2-million (Canadian). In the main event, WWF World champion Hulk Hogan defended his title successfully via disqualification against "Mr. Wonderful" Paul Orndorff.
67,678	04-01-90	Toronto, Ontario	SkyDome	This was the WWF's WrestleMania VI pay-per-view card. The live gate was approximately $4-million (Canadian). In the main event, The Ultimate Warrior pinned Hulk Hogan to capture the WWF World title.
65,000	04-29-96	Tokyo, Japan	Tokyo Dome	The lure of interpromotional matches between New Japan and UWF continued to draw tremendous crowds and this time a $5.7-million gate. In the main event, New Japan's Shinya Hashimoto defeated UWF's Nobuhiko Takada with a cross armbreaker and gained the IWGP title in the process.

ATTENDANCE DATE LOCATION SITE ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

64,500*	03-21-91	Tokyo, Japan	Tokyo Dome	The live gate was approximately $3.2-million. In the main event, Tatsumi Fujinami and WCW World champion Ric Flair battled to a no-contest.
64,000	01-04-96	Tokyo, Japan	Tokyo Dome	The second match between New Japan's Keiji Muto and the UWF's Nobuhiko Takada drew almost as much interest as their first meeting. With an estimated gate of $5.5-million, the continued feud between Muto and Takada became the biggest drawing feud in the history of pro wrestling. Takada defeated Muto with a cross armbreaker in the main event.

OTHER CROWDS AND CARDS OF NOTE

The Tokyo Dome, the most prevalent site in our Top 10 list, is also the site for the 11th through 18th largest crowds in wrestling history. On February 10, 1990, 63,900 people paid $3.2-million to see Antonio Inoki and Seiji Sakaguchi come out of retirement to defeat Shinya Hashimoto and Masa Chono. On January 4, 1993, 63,500 paid approximately $3.5-million as Genichiro Tenryu defeated Riki Choshu. Two years later, on January 4, 1995, 62,500 paid approximately $4.8-million when IWGP heavyweight champion Shinya Hashimoto defeated Kensuke Sasaki. On April 2, 1995, 13 promotions in Japan got together for a cooperative card that drew about 60,000 fans. Comparable crowds were on hand in the Dome on January 4, 1994 (main event: Genichiro Tenryu pinned Antonio Inoki), January 4, 1992 (main event: Riki Choshu pinned Tatsumi Fujinami), November 29, 1989 (main event: Akira Maeda defeated former Olympic judo medalist Willie Wilhelm via submission), and April 24, 1989 (1972 Olympic judo medalist Shota Chochovashvili defeated Antonio Inoki in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round bout).

The Fukuoka Dome in Japan has also been the site of some significant crowds, most recently 55,000 on May 3, 1993 (main event: Antonio Inoki & Tatsumi Fujinami defeat Riki Choshu and Genichiro Tenryu).

The Triple Mania event on April 30, 1993, was headlined by a retirement bout that saw Cien Caras defeat Konnan via countout. It drew about 48,000 fans to Plaza de Toros in Mexico City, Mexico.

In the United States, some significant attendance figures include: 62,167 at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis, Indiana, on April 5, 1992, for WrestleMania VIII ... 43,517 at Texas Stadium in Irving, Texas, on May 6, 1984, to see Kerry Von Erich capture the NWA World title from Ric Flair ... approximately 42,000 at Shea Stadium in New York on June 25, 1976, to see Bruno Sammartino defeat Stan Hansen, Andre the Giant defeat boxer Chuck Wepner, and the closed-circuit broadcast from Japan of Muhammad Ali vs. Antonio Inoki ... 40,671 at Shea Stadium in New York on August 9, 1980, to see Bruno Sammartino defeat Larry Zbyszko in a cage match and Andre the Giant pin Hulk Hogan.

Prior to what many term "the modern era" of pro wrestling, a card at Chicago's Comiskey Park drew 38,622 fans to see Buddy Rogers defeat Pat O'Connor for the NWA World title; the live gate of $141,345 was a record at the time. And on September 20, 1934, 35,265 fans flocked to Wrigley Field in Chicago to see NWA World champion Jim Londos defend his title against Ed "Strangler" Lewis.

Finally, there has been a often-reported (but never verified) account of 100,000 flocking to Athens Olympic Stadium in 1934 to see Jim Londos defend his world title against a Russian challenger; reportedly, 30,000 fans were turned away from the event.

CHAMPIONS OF THE GALAXY

WRESTLING GAME

DID YOU KNOW

THESE FACTS ABOUT CHAMPIONS OF THE GALAXY WRESTLING GAME?

First game ad appeared in PWI in 1986 . . . Over 20,000 game editions have been sold worldwide since that time . . . Champions of the Galaxy is wrestling's most popular game of all time, lasting over 11 years and still growing . . . 18 regular game editions have been produced with new editions coming out every June and December . . . The GWF Promoter, a newsletter for game players, is in its sixth year of providing wrestler rankings and information about the always changing GWF (Galactic Wrestling Federation) . . . Champions of the Galaxy features over 200 wrestlers, managers, valets, talk-show hosts and even a commissioner . . . In 1991, the Mat Marketplace called it "a fun, fast-paced, all-action game that plays like a true wrestling promotion." In 1996, a game reviewer for the Morton College Collegian said, "I highly recommend Champions of the Galaxy wrestling game for people from all walks of life." The most dramatic development in GWF history will occur in the next edition, CPC 2105, which will be released in June, 1997.

WRESTLING SUPERCARDS

In a sport that has no beginning and ending points within a calendar year, the supercard has often served as the culmination of a year's worth of activity, the one card on which lasting feuds are brought to a conclusion. Just what constitutes a supercard is a matter of interpretation. The size of the venue, the use of wrestlers who normally do not compete in the geographic area in which the card is held, the number of high-level championship matches—these are all considerations. The mere fact that a promoter touts his card as a supercard (e.g. any David Von Erich Parade of Champions after number three) does not necessarily make it so. One thing that is definitely so: The concept of the supercard did not begin with the advent of pay-per-view.
